This summer, the Milwaukee Art Museum transports visitors to nineteenth-century Paris with its feature exhibition, Posters of Paris: Toulouse-Lautrec and His Contemporaries. Experience these imaginative, daring, and playful posters—larger-than-life, brightly hued artistic posters that once enlivened the boulevards, creating a “free museum for the masses.”

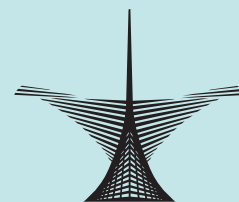

Parking will be available at no charge in the War Memorial north outdoor parking lot, courtesy of the War Memorial Center.

Military ID required. Up to 6 tickets per ID.*

The Museum is also a participating Blue Star Museum, offering free admission to all active duty military personnel and their families, Memorial Day, May 28–Labor Day, September 3, 2012.
